Study on-campus

Choose the option that fits in with your life best – from studying at any of our three campuses, or mixing online and on-campus study.

Free airport collection and transfer for international students

For further information about studying in Toowoomba, Springfield or Ipswich, visit usq.edu.au/campus-hub

USQ acknowledges the Giabal and Jarowair peoples of Toowoomba; the Jagera, Yuggera and Ugarapul peoples of Springfield and Ipswich, the Kambuwal peoples of Stanthorpe and the Gadigal peoples of the Eora Nation, Sydney, as the keepers of ancient knowledge where USQ campuses and hubs have been built, and whose cultures and customs continue to nurture this land. USQ also pay respect to Elders – past, present and future.

When it comes to online study, USQ is a leader in the field

At USQ, over 75% of students choose to study online – and with good reason! Have you considered how online study could work for you?

Do you want to study, but have work, family and a busy lifestyle?

Online study allows you to learn when, where and how you want. Typically, students spend about 10 hours per week on each subject, so how you fit that into your schedule is up to you.

How do you learn?

Study your course content online with live streaming, video, podcast, audio files, slideshows, online readings, etc. Your computer, tablet or mobile phone becomes your virtual classroom.

Support is at hand

USQ's Student Relationship Officers are on hand to help answer any questions, so you will not be on your own. They are just a phone call, chat or email away.

You can still undertake practical work

Want hands-on experience as part of your degree? Learn the theory online and put that knowledge into practice at our on-campus residential schools or professional placements.

Graduate with the same degree

Whether you've studied online or on-campus, you'll receive the same renowned degree as your peers.

'I found I had hit a ceiling in middle management roles within human resources.

The MBA has certainly furthered my career and helped me to obtain more senior roles and promotion in larger organisations.

Security was also important for me; as you get older you want to ensure you have contemporary qualifications to meet the market. When I started this journey, it seemed like a long way to the finishing point, but it is well worth the investment. It is one of my proudest accomplishments.'

Why study this degree?

The Master of Business Administration and Master of Professional Accounting double degree provides you with the opportunity to gain the knowledge and skills required for professional accounting, while also developing an understanding of the broader management context, better-preparing you for senior management roles.

You will receive a separate testamur (official certificate) for each degree, and will be able to complete the double degree in less time than if you chose to study the two degrees separately.

Professional accreditation

The Master of Professional Accounting meets the educational entrance requirements of both CPA Australia and the Chartered Accountants Australia and New Zealand (CAANZ). This provides associate membership of CPA Australia, eligibility to study the CPA professional exams, and eligibility to study the CAANZ professional exams.

Successful completion of the Master of Professional Accounting degree can qualify students for exemptions from the Fundamental level (9 papers) of the Association of Chartered Certified Accountants (ACCA) exams.

The Master of Professional Accounting is accredited by the Chartered Institute of Management Accountants (CIMA).

'I started as a high school teacher. After about 6 years I decided that it wasn't for me in the long term. I started looking at jobs that interested me and happened to find one in marketing. Coming from a different area, the greatest challenge I faced was imposter syndrome. It made me question my knowledge on certain tasks.

By doing further study, it certainly has been a confidence boost to reaffirm that I know what I'm doing.'

Denise

Graduate Certificate of Business

'When I was a classroom teacher, I could influence 25-28 students, and now, in a leadership position, I can influence 300 students. I studied Learning Difficulties: Reading as part of my degree, and now the research presented within that course is underpinning our reading framework at the school where I work. I've been able to refine our practices based on the research, and that's why we're seeing an improvement in students' results.'

Engineering and Built Environment

From high-rise buildings and revolutionary aircraft, to robotics and agricultural technologies, engineers are the driving force behind many of modern society’s greatest creations.

USQ's partnership with John Deere enables the development of the next generation of agricultural technology – including machine automation and control, such as driverless tractors.

USQ researchers are working with Defence Science and Technology to develop next generation repairs for composite aircraft structures.

USQ, Austrak and Laing O'Rourke have partnered to develop composite technology such as fibre reinforced polymer composites which can replace timber rail bridge transoms.

A woman in a blue shirt and black pants is practicing martial arts with a man in a black shirt and black pants in a traditional Chinese room. The man is in a low, wide stance, and the woman is standing in front of him, smiling. The room has red walls and a wooden ceiling.

'I am researching what happens internally when a skilled martial artist applies force and stabilises their body.

I'd like to present something in relation to traditional Chinese Martial Arts that has never been analysed in this way before.

My research could potentially show that traditional martial arts principles can be taught to people in other sports and exercise disciplines in order to increase what is physically possible. I hope to bring more scientific understanding into the martial arts community.'

Gregory
Juris Doctor

Law and Justice

A USQ Law degree can lead to opportunities to practise law around the world, or prepare you for a career in business, policy, government, sociology or advocacy. Whether you already have an undergraduate degree in law and want to further your legal research and critical thinking, or you wish to make a career change, USQ has a postgraduate law degree for you.

USQ's School of Law and Justice is the second-largest in Queensland based on student intake.

The average wage of a generalist lawyer on SEEK in 2018 was $128 988.

SEEK, 2018

80% of USQ Law academic staff are PhD-qualified so you will be learning from experts in the field.

N/A	3 years or part-time equivalent 24 units	Online	February July November	Approved 3-year bachelor degree, or equivalent, in an area other than law.	Minimum of IELTS 6.5 , or equivalent

Why study this degree?

The Juris Doctor is a graduate-entry degree for students who already have a degree in a field other than law, and who wish to pursue a professional career in law or in law-related work in business or government. We understand you are starting this degree with a wealth of knowledge, and therefore the Juris Doctor is pitched at a higher level to challenge you throughout your studies. In the second and third years, the degree has a strong element of research work.

NOTE

This qualification does not entitle graduates to use the title 'Doctor'.

Professional accreditation

The Juris Doctor has been accredited by the Legal Practitioners Admissions Board, Queensland, and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Queensland as an approved academic qualification under the Supreme Court Admission Rules 2004 (QLD). It has also been approved by the Australian Law Schools Standards Committee under the Standards for Australian Law Schools adopted by the Council of Australian Law Deans.

This will partially satisfy the requirements to practise as a lawyer in Queensland or elsewhere in Australia. Intending lawyers (whether barristers or solicitors) must also complete an approved practical legal training course in order to become admitted to practise law. Advice on practical legal training programs can be obtained through usqassist.custhelp.com

Degree structure

Units

Core courses	20
PLUS 4 x approved Law courses	4
TOTAL	24

You will gain an overall knowledge of advanced law procedures and processes, from contracts, torts and the legal process, to criminal law, property law and the complicated area of evidence – what can be used in court proceedings, who can use it, and how it can be used.

'After finishing my bachelor degree I worked for a short while as a software analyst. However, I didn't want to lose motivation to continue my study journey once earning an income, as I've seen some of my friends do.

I looked at industry trends and found there are many career opportunities involving data in today's society.

As I am more analytical, I decided to study Applied Data Science.'

The Advanced Research specialisation gives students, who have already undertaken substantial prior studies, the opportunity to focus on a research project in a specific area. A research topic may be drawn, depending on availability, from the areas of:

- Agricultural Science
- Applied Climate Science
- Astronomy
- Biology
- Computer Science
- Counselling
- Data Science
- Environmental Science
- Mathematics
- Midwifery
- Nursing
- Physical Sciences
- Psychology
- Spatial Science

- Statistics.

The Psychology Research specialisation gives students, who have previously completed psychology studies, the opportunity to undertake enhanced and intensive research training and professional psychology practices within the psychology research field.

NOTE

Transfer between specialisations within this degree is not possible.

- 1 The Psychology Research specialisation is the only specialisation available to study on-campus at USQ Ipswich (with a compulsory residential school). Students can also study this specialisation via external study (still with a compulsory residential school).
- 2 The Applied Research specialisation is not available to international on-campus students at USQ Ipswich.

USQ is one step closer to helping reveal the true nature of new worlds following the expansion of its Mount Kent Observatory. Study Astronomy and Space Sciences at USQ's world-leading teaching laboratory, Queensland's only professional research observatory.

The University is hosting the only southern-hemisphere facility dedicated to supporting NASA's Transiting Exoplanet Survey Satellite (TESS) mission, and playing a critical role in the discovery and understanding of these planetary systems orbiting the stars of the solar neighbourhood. Our teaching staff are internationally recognised for their excellence in research and play a hands-on role in guiding students through their postgraduate journey in this exciting field of science.

Do you want to be a part of Australia's engineering future?

The materials needed to build Australia's future are being designed and produced at USQ. Our researchers are dedicated to making better construction materials and technology, develop railway sleepers to outlast anything seen before, and improve fuel tanks on rockets and satellites.

Together with industry partners, such as Wagners Composite Fibre Technologies, Austrak, and Gilmour Space Technologies, the University ensures the world-leading research is creating world-changing results.

USQ research in fields such as Materials Engineering and Mechanical Engineering is recognised as well above world standard. (ERA, 2018)

Why study this degree?

The Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) is a research degree available in all study areas, and provides you with the skills to become an effective researcher in your previously studied discipline. By undertaking a Doctor of Philosophy, you will have expansive intellectual freedom to be able to make an original and substantial contribution to your area of study.

The Doctor of Philosophy comprises a minimum of 16 units, although students normally complete 24 units, with the option to extend to 32 units if needed.

Supervision

You can start your PhD at any time during the year; however, ideally you would commence at the beginning of Semesters 1 or 2. To start your PhD, you need to clarify your research topic and seek an academic staff member to be your supervisor. This can sometimes take time, so it is wise to allow several months for discussion with potential supervisors and for consideration of your application.

Would you like to help farmers save millions of dollars in crop damage? Study Agriculture at USQ.

Our researchers have joined forces with the likes of Queensland Department of Agriculture and Fisheries and CSIRO – to better understand nematodes (one of the Queensland's most destructive pests) and how they interact with different crops, increasing both yields and profits for growers.

Broadacre cropping is one of Queensland's biggest industries, contributing around $2.5 billion to the national economy, but nematodes are significantly reducing that profitability.

Nematodes are extremely difficult to control because they can survive in soil for several years even after harvest, and you can't use chemicals to eradicate them. USQ's research provides farmers with an accurate prediction of population decline if the initial population is measured after harvest.

'I completed my masters degree in Arabic. When I arrived in Australia I couldn't speak any English and I worked hard to overcome this challenge. I am now studying my PhD in digital marketing and information systems and look forward to having an impact on the future of website design.'

Degree table explained

The degree tables outline what entry requirements you need to get into your chosen degree, as well as when you can start, how long it will take to complete, and where you can study.

03

Understand the costs

Degree fees and payment

Tuition fees vary, depending on the degree or courses you are enrolled in. Your first semester of tuition fees needs to be paid directly to USQ in advance of receiving your eCOE (electronic Confirmation of Enrolment). You can pay your first-semester tuition fees online at usq.edu.au/international-accept

Future payments will be made using other payment options. For details, please refer to 'Paying your fees' at usq.edu.au/fees

NOTE

International students studying on-campus in Australia in Semesters 1 and 2 are charged on-campus fees, regardless of whether the student has enrolled in individual courses externally or online. This does not apply to non-compulsory external/online courses studied in Semester 3.

Textbooks

You will most likely need a prescribed textbook for each course (subject) you study at university. Textbooks can cost between AUD 30 and AUD 200. Additional costs may apply for some degrees and courses, e.g. uniforms and special equipment required for some degrees. You can find out more about textbook expenses at omnia.usq.edu.au

Scholarships and bursaries

Scholarships and bursaries are available in all study areas at USQ, and are offered to students who have demonstrated academic excellence, leadership, and participation in the wider community, and to students whose ability to attend university and achieve their full academic potential is affected by financial hardship.

Check out the USQ Scholarships website, where you can find application forms, closing dates and FAQs. Please visit usq.edu.au/scholarships

What if I change my mind?

Full refunds are available; however, time limit conditions apply. If you find you need to withdraw your enrolment in a course before the last date to drop courses, you may be eligible for a refund of fees if there is an appropriate reason for the request. It is recommended you familiarise yourself with the policy on Refund of Fees before you accept your offer to study with USQ.

For specific information about refunds of tuition fees and also non-tuition fees, such as accommodation fees and student health care, please refer to usq.edu.au/student-fees-refund-procedure

Not all specialisations are available at all campuses or online/on-campus.

Not all courses in a degree are available in every semester.

For international students: fees are a guide and may be lower or higher, depending on courses selected, as not all courses will cost the same amount. The University reserves the right to alter fees. For the latest information, please visit usq.edu.au/fees

Fees do not cover additional expenses, such as textbooks, accommodation costs, Overseas Student Health Cover, general living expenses, etc. We recommend you visit studyinaustralia.gov.au for average living costs associated with living and studying in Australia.
