2021 POSTGRADUATE COURSEWORK STUDENT GUIDE

ANU

MESSAGE FROM THE VICE CHANCELLOR

Welcome to The Australian National University
It gives me great pleasure to introduce you to our postgraduate guide for 2021.

As the national university of Australia, we stand ready to offer you one of the world's finest research and learning experiences.

We believe that great research, supported by outstanding staff, creates the right environment for the highest quality education.

Our top ranking in Australia and amongst the world's top universities, allows ANU to attract the very best teachers and researchers from across the globe in a range of disciplines. If you choose ANU, you will have the chance to work alongside some of the greatest minds in the world in an environment that embraces innovative teaching practices.

Your postgraduate degree from ANU will prepare you for the future of your choice and help you realise your career ambitions. Our graduates are rated the most employable in Australia and amongst the most sought after by employers around the world.

We are a community committed to supporting you all the way through your studies. You will have exceptional teachers, mentors and support services to help you reach your educational goals.

We are a university that welcomes students from across the country and all over the world.

Everyone at the University stands for the highest possible standards of ethical behaviour and we support an inclusive and diverse environment that leads to more original thinking and better outcomes for our community, the nation and the world.

Many of our students live right here on our beautiful parkland campus in the national capital. In our postgraduate lodges, you will find friends that you will keep for a lifetime and become part of a lively intellectual community.

ANU is an incredibly exciting university and I am pleased to invite you here to undertake your postgraduate studies.

I look forward to welcoming you to ANU in 2021.

Professor Brian P. Schmidt AC
Vice-Chancellor and President

WHAT YOU CAN STUDY

Postgraduate coursework

Postgraduate coursework will deepen your knowledge, expand your skills and equip you for a successful career in your field.

Our postgraduate coursework programs include Master degrees, along with a range of graduate-level Certificates and Diplomas. Some coursework programs also contain a research component, where students work with the assistance of a supervisor.

Admission into a postgraduate coursework program requires the completion of a Bachelor degree as a minimum.

Graduate Certificate: six months' full-time study, or approximately 24 units

Graduate Diploma: one year full-time study, or approximately 36–48 units

Master degree: two years' full-time study, or approximately 96 units

Master degree (Advanced): two years' full-time study, or approximately 96 units. Includes a 24-unit equivalent supervised sub-thesis.

Flexible options

Flexible Double Master: ANU has pioneered the Flexible Double Master degree so you can study two Master-level programs at the same time to strengthen your expertise, and fast-track your qualifications and your career. Unique to ANU, our Flexible Double Master degree is offered through the ANU College of Arts and Social Sciences.

For more information and a list of possible combinations, visit cass.anu.edu.au/study/master-degrees/flexible-double-master-degree

Graduate Studies Select: Create your own postgraduate study program with Graduate Studies Select (GSS). You can choose from a broad range of postgraduate courses offered across most of our academic colleges, including some pre-approved courses from our partner universities.

To learn more, visit anu.edu.au/study/study-options

Postgraduate research

Postgraduate research, or a Higher Degree by Research (HDR) program, is a research-focused degree usually undertaken by someone who has completed a previous degree with a significant research component.

You can undertake a HDR program at ANU through a Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) or a Master of Philosophy (MPhil).

To find out more about HDR programs and admission requirements please visit anu.edu.au/study/apply

You can apply online throughout the year. If you are applying for a research scholarship, be aware of scholarship application deadlines. You must indicate on your application form if you still wish to be considered for admission if your scholarship application is unsuccessful.

For more information visit, anu.edu.au/research

ANU MOOCs

ANU became the first Australian member of Massive Open Online Course provider edX, an online learning platform which provides university-level courses in a wide range of disciplines to a worldwide audience.

Owned jointly by Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology edX aims to provide education to one billion people worldwide within 10 years.

Choose from:

Student profile

Jiani Li

“When I was thinking about my graduate study, I chose museum and heritage studies because I really want to know how I can create interesting exhibitions. ANU made me feel happy, at peace, and I enjoyed every day of my life there. After I finished my study at ANU in July 2017, I returned to China and worked in a cultural heritage research team of the Chinese Academy of Cultural Heritage (CACH) in Beijing. Without ANU, I would not have been able to find such a good job.”

ACCOMMODATION

Live on campus or take a short commute from one of Canberra's well-connected neighbourhoods.

On-campus

ANU gives you more opportunities to live on campus than any other Australian university, so you can make the most of your time here. Apply to join 6000 students from across Australia and around the world who call ANU home.

Postgraduate students can apply for on-campus accommodation in these residences:

Self-catered

- | | |
|---------------------------|------------------------|
| > Bruce Hall Packard Wing | > Lena Karmel Lodge |
| > Fenner Hall | > Warrumbul Lodge |
| > Toad Hall | > Burgmann College |
| > Ursula Hall Laurus Wing | > Postgraduate Village |
| > Graduate House | > Wamburum Hall |
| > Davey Lodge | > University House |
| > Kinloch Lodge | |

We cannot guarantee that on-campus accommodation will be available. Also, student residences are not suitable for children, so you may need to explore renting off-campus (non-ANU).

We recommend arriving in Canberra early to find non-ANU accommodation.

Share a house or apartment

Shared accommodation can be hard to find if you're not in Canberra.

Shared households in Australia take different forms; some share meals and rotate household chores, while others have multiple people living in the same house but keeping separate lives.

A good place to start looking for shared accommodation is ANU Housing Online.

housingonline.anu.edu.au

anu.edu.au/study/accommodation/advice-procedures/group-housing

Rent privately

You can rent an apartment or house privately through a real estate agent or direct from the property owner.

The best place to start your search is online. We suggest these sites:

allhomes.com.au

domain.com.au

realestate.com.au

gumtree.com.au

Because Canberra is a university town, the highest turnover of rental properties is during the December/January summer break.

Renting Advice:

Applying for a lease

In Canberra, real estate agents and property owners often insist that prospective tenants see the property before applying for a lease, to be seriously considered.

To apply, you will need to fill out an application form which will ask you about your personal circumstances, including your financial situation. You will also be asked for referees, people who can verify that you are trustworthy, like a previous landlord or employer.

The agent should let you know within a week if your application has been successful.

Setting up your home

Your lease will usually be for a period of six to 12 months. You will be responsible for organising the utilities connections. Water will be connected by the owner but you will need to pay for the water you use.

Factor in these costs when setting up your new home:

- > Bond is usually four weeks' rent and is held by the ACT Office of Regulatory Services. Provided you don't cause damage to the property and maintain it, the bond will be returned to you in full at the end of the lease
- > As well as bond, you will probably need to pay four weeks' rent in advance
- > Connection fees for the telephone, electricity, gas and any other utilities you choose to connect at the property
- > It's a good idea to take out household contents insurance
- > Moving expenses
- > Canberra has a broad range of recycled, second-hand and brand new furniture and household suppliers.

If you have a dispute with the landlord or real estate agent, Accommodation Services and the Tenants Union ACT can give you advice and advocate on your behalf.

The Postgraduate and Research Students' Association

The Postgraduate and Research Students' Association (PARSA) is the student representative body for postgraduates at the ANU. They provide a range of services aimed at providing support for the specific needs of postgraduate students in relation to both their studies and daily life. The primary focus of PARSA is the interests and welfare of all research and coursework postgraduate students at ANU.

All postgraduate students at ANU automatically become members of PARSA.

PARSA is run by students, for students and represents postgraduates both collectively and individually.

APPLICATION, SCHOLARSHIPS AND FEES

You can apply for a postgraduate coursework program if you hold a Bachelor degree or equivalent, or are about to graduate.

Most ANU programs also require that you achieve a particular Grade Point Average in addition to completion. Some may have further requirements such as professional work experience or cognate backgrounds.

For more information please go to programsandcourses.anu.edu.au

All applicants must meet the ANU English Language Requirements.

Domestic students

You are a domestic applicant if you

- >> are an Australian or New Zealand citizen
- >> hold an Australian Permanent Residency Visa
- >> hold a permanent Australian Humanitarian Visa

If none of these criteria apply, then you are an international student.

How to apply

To apply for most postgraduate coursework degree programs, you will need to submit your application through the Universities Admissions Centre (UAC) and pay a fee.

uac.edu.au

International Students

As an international postgraduate student, there are two ways to apply to ANU, depending on your circumstances. Carefully read through the options to select the correct application process for your situation.

Option 1: Apply for most degrees at ANU. What you need to know

For most degrees at ANU, you can now apply and be assessed under our new admissions processes.

- > There are two student intakes each year - Semester 1 and Semester 2
- > Semester 1 2021 application are now open and will close 16 November 2020. See the website for Round 1, 2 and 3 dates.
- > You can only preference a single program, so check Programs and Courses to choose the best program for you.
- > There are three assessment rounds in each semester. Apply in the first round, and you have three opportunities to be assessed and accepted, giving you the best chance of being offered a place at ANU.
- > In order to be considered for an offer, you must meet pre-requisite and cognate requirements for your preferred program, and English language requirements by the application deadline for the round.
- > You will be ranked against other candidates applying for the same program.

Option 2: Apply for degrees with specific application requirements

Some programs at ANU have specific application processes. If you want to apply to a program listed below there may be additional requirements.

Postgraduate coursework degreesw

- Master / Graduate Certificate of Law
- Master / Graduate Diploma of Legal Practice
- Master / Graduate Diploma of Applied Cybernetics
- Master / Graduate Diploma of Cyber Security, Strategy & Risk Management
- Master of Innovation & Professional Practice
- Master of Science Communication Outreach
- Master of Science in Science Communication
- Executive Master of Public Administration
- Executive Master of Public Policy
- Doctor of Medicine & Surgery (MChD).

What you need to know

- Applications for Semester 1 2021 are open now.
- Minimum requirements for entry to these programs may include providing a portfolio, doing an audition or providing additional documents to support your application. Check Programs and Courses to see if additional requirements apply.

Fees

Most domestic postgraduate coursework and non-award students at ANU must pay domestic tuition fees. The amount you have to pay is based on the courses in which you enrol.

Each course has a set fee, so you will be invoiced for the total fees for all the courses you enrol in for a semester or session.

You can defer part or all of your tuition fees using FEE-HELP if you meet these citizenship and residency requirements:*

- >> You are an Australian citizen or permanent humanitarian visa holder (living in Australia for the duration of your enrolment).
- >> You are a permanent visa holder undertaking bridging study for overseas-trained professionals, and will be living in Australia for the duration of your enrolment.

If you use FEE-HELP, the Australian Government will pay your tuition fees while you study, but you will be required to pay back those fees through the taxation system or voluntary payments. studyassist.gov.au/help-loans

A small number of postgraduate programs offer Commonwealth Supported Places (CSP)* where the Australian Government subsidises your tuition fees. For information about CSPs see anu.edu.au/students/scholarships-fees/fees-payments/postgraduate-commonwealth-supported-places

Please follow the links in programsandcourses.anu.edu.au where specific fees for international students are listed by your degree.

Services and amenities fee

Domestic and international students at ANU must pay a services and amenities fee. This helps to support services like student counselling, recreational facilities, sporting and cultural events held on campus throughout the year. anu.edu.au/pg/ssaf
